WHAT IS AN UMBRELLA COMPANY P

WHAT IS AN UMBRELLA COMPANY?

HMRC state:

"There is no statutory definition of an 'umbrella company', although it is generally accepted that an umbrella company is a company that employs temporary workers who work at different end clients' premises. Umbrella companies do not source work. Typically the umbrella will enter into a contract with a recruitment agency who will source work from end clients."

"The worker is an employee of the umbrella company and there should be a contract of employment in place which defines the working terms and conditions."

"On receipt of payment from the recruitment agency, the umbrella company has its overheads to cover so will typically retain:

- its administration fee (AKA Margin)
- an amount to meet their employer's National Insurance Contributions (NICs) obligation
- holiday payment (paid or retained employee chooses)
- allowable expenses (subject to SDC assessment)
- other amounts to cover specific costs, such as apprenticeship levy

"The remainder of the payment is paid to the worker as gross pay which is then subject to PAYE deductions for Income Tax and Employee's NIC"

WHAT IS NOT AN UMBRELLA COMPANY?

WHAT IS NOT AN UMBRELLA COMPANY?

Any organisation that:

- Advertises 90% + take home pay & IR35 compliant!
- Claim to be approved by HMRC and/or backed by a QC
- Routes funds through several other companies before it gets paid
- Doesn't report taxes to HMRC via RTI submission.

These organisations usually turn out to be providing:

- Employment Benefit Trusts
- Loan scheme arrangements
- Mini-umbrella companies

HMRC & ASA are currently trying to raise awareness of these types of arrangements and provided the following statement:

"...you're highly likely to be avoiding tax and you could end up paying additional tax, National Insurance contributions and interest. Penalties may also apply"

The Morson PSL only includes FCSA accredited providers to ensure that their contractors can be confident that they are not at risk.

PENSION SALARY SACRIFICE

What is Salary Sacrifice?

"Salary sacrifice is commonly used by employers or employees to take advantage of the exemption from tax or NIC or both of certain benefits. It is important to recognise that employers and employees have the right to arrange the terms and conditions of their employment and to enjoy the statutory tax and NIC treatment that applies to each element in the remuneration package."

Employment Income Manual (EIM42752)

Why Salary Sacrifice?

- Allows you to retain CONTROL of your tax planning and long term financial planning
 There is NO ability to operate pension salary sacrifice via agency payroll
- You CHOOSE how much you want to sacrifice

 Up to £40,000 p.a. with potential to use unclaimed allowances for 3 previous years via 'carry forward'
- Pay LESS TAX as a reduction of both Income Tax & National Insurance contributions By reducing the gross income applicable to the individual.

PENSION SALARY SACRIFICE

How does this apply to me?

- Champion provides complimentary access for you to engage with one of our advisers who will work with you, at a time convenient, to understand if Salary Sacrifice is right for you
- Champion Financial Planning (CFP) will provide advice on the most appropriate approach based on your circumstances along with a capture of any other areas of advice appropriate to your changing circumstances, both personal and professional
- Factor in wider considerations around tax planning for your existing limited company

This option allows us to attract contractors from other umbrella companies where the provider:

- Does not provide access to a salary sacrifice arrangement
- Insists on their employees using their chosen scheme; and/or
- Charges an additional administration fee on top of their margin

Champion will NOT insist on you using a specific scheme and there are NO additional administration charges

• 15 minutes; a conversation to understand & highlight any areas of consideration We encourage all clients to, as a minimum, take us up on this session

What have I got to gain?

Anything from peace of mind to significant tax savings
 Lets find out!

It is far easier to create something that works with a plan to follow
